CITY COUNCIL AIDS ICE TRUST

Tammany Councilmen Voted Solidly Against Investigating Dock Board's Favoritism—Refused Justice to Rival Companies.

Aldermen Cleverly Dodged the Issue by Hiding Till the Meeting Was Adjourned for Lack of a Quorum.

The Board of Aldermen cleverly dodged passing on the City Council's resolution to investigate the Ice Trust by adjourning promptly at 1 o'clock when a quorum was not present.

The usual custom, when Tammany schemes are not at stake, is to wait from a half hour to an hour for the needed quorum.

COUNCIL DODGED, TOO.

The Tammany members of the Municipal Council voted solidly against a resolution offered this afternoon by Mr. Hendrick, of Brooklyn, demanding that the Dock Commissioners all documents and other information bearing upon the leasing of dock privileges to ice companies.

The resolution said: "Whereas, charges have been made by The World and corroborated by other papers that there has been a violation of the law and a wasting of public funds by the Dock Department in leasing exclusive privileges to the American Ice Company, be it resolved that the Dock Board turn over to the City Council all documents relating to the leasing of docks to the Ice Trust."

The resolution was voted down by a vote of 10 to 6.

Mr. Francis immediately submitted a second resolution demanding that the Dock Department lease to all ice companies applying privileges to land ice on the same terms now used by the American Ice Company.

Vice-President Oakley, the Tammany leader, moved to put this resolution in the waste basket.

This was construed as a motion to table by the chair.

Mr. Oakley said it was a matter of indifference to him whether the Ice Trust was wiped out or not, but that it was not the business of the Municipal Council to tell the Dock Commissioners their duty.

Councilman Leitch, favoring the Francis resolution, said: "I believe there is a conspiracy to control the dock privileges of the city for the benefit of the American Ice Company, a monopoly, and it is plain that other companies are denied privileges according to the Trust."

ICE TRUST'S ANSWER.

How the Monopoly Succeeded in Freezing Out All Its Rivals.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ALBANY, May 22.—Attorney-General Davies to-day considered the application for permission to commence an action in the Supreme Court to restrain the American Ice Company from transacting business in this State, on the grounds that it is violating the provisions of the State Anti-Trust law.

Early this morning he received the briefs which at the hearing on Thursday last the attorneys representing both sides of the case promised to file. The petition of the applicant in part states:

"The American Ice Company, capitalized at $5,000,000, controls 85 per cent. of the ice business carried on in New York City and surrounding places. There is absolutely no competition of this statement, and it is substantiated by the affidavit of L. O. Thayer, an expert on the subject.

"It has been shown that the Knickerbocker and Consolidated are the principal constituents of the American Ice Company. The American Company, gaining control of them, has destroyed individual enterprise or free competition in the supply of ice. Moreover, the control of the docks of New York City prevented opportunity of any rivalry.

"The consequent result is that through

NEELY'S BOLD DEFENSE

WASHINGTON, May 22.—John D. Lindsay, attorney for Charles F. W. Neely, appeared before the House Judiciary Committee to-day and submitted an argument against the proposed extradition bill.

Mr. Lindsay was questioned by members of the committee. He said that Neely could only be tried in the United States and only upon the charge of violating a law making it a felony to bring into the United States money embezzled from the United States.

The funds in the custody of the United States, though the property of the island of Cuba, were assumed by law to be the property of the United States.

Mr. Lindsay, a member of the committee, said that it would be almost impossible to identify stolen funds, and that, therefore, it would be obligatory upon the United States to prove that he

SCOUTS AHEAD OF BULLER CAUGHT IN TRAP, SLAUGHTERED.

LONDON, May 22.—4.37 P. M.—It is officially announced that Col. Buller has reported that while marching in the direction of Newcastle, Natal, yesterday a squadron of his force was ambushed by a party of Boers six miles west of Vryheid, and that very few escaped. His casualties numbered sixty-six men.

The War Office despatch from Gen. Buller says that he received the following from Buller:

"May 21.—While marching in the direction of Newcastle one of my squadrons of Boers six miles west of Vryheid, and very few escaped. Lonsdale, Lansum and Capell are among the missing. Captain the Earl De La Warr is slightly wounded in the leg. The total casualties are about sixty-six. I have returned to Nqutu for supplies. We march to-morrow for Newcastle via Dundee."

Gen. Buller then proceeds: "I detached Col. Buller and about 500 men from Dundee May 17, with instructions to march by Van's Drift and show his force at Nqutu, which was reported to have been evaded by the enemy, preparatory to the return of the magistrats and the civil establishment to the district. He was to rejoin me at Newcastle afterward."

A squadron would probably number about eighty troops.

GIANTS PLAY THE CINCINNATIS AGAIN.

(Special to The Evening World.)

LEAGUE PARK, CINCINNATI, May 22.—Having broken the monotonous streak of every day defeats, the Giants came joyfully to their mutton this afternoon and talked about boosting themselves along the roll of honor which appears in newspapers every day at the head of the baseball news. Two more victories here meant they would displace the Reds and step along over their prostrate heads into sixth place.

The sweets of conquest hadn't been tasted so often as to fall upon the appetite, and the Swingers found themselves hungering for more of the tidbit. So despite the patched order of the team they went to work in the best of spirits. Jack Doyle will probably relieve Understudy Grady from duty at first base to-morrow. This afternoon Doyle enjoyed the exquisite torture of no less than sixty-five small fly blisters scientifically applied to his lame arm and shoulder.

"By the way they sting," said Jack, as he watched a turnstile clicking off fans from both sides of the Rhine. "I guess they'll have the dead arm gingered up by morning."

St. Seymour also put himself in the hands of a local armistice, who promised speedily to put the valuable whip in condition to earn its right to exist and draw salary. Massage and electricity are this wing adjuster's trumps. His first treatment made "St." talk of shooting ball at the Reds and the method may add the Albany lad to the corps of effective artillerymen.

McBride was served with a base on balls. The umpire licensed Geier to go to first similarly. McBride slumbered the yard from second and Carrick and Davis nipped him easily. Geier essayed a steal which came to grief through Howerman and Davis. Beckley pounded to Davis and never reached first. No runs.

Gleason peppered a single to right. Corcoran and Smith both tried for Seibach's short fly and neither got it. Gleason was promoted to second on the throw in to plate. Hickman scored and Howerman took third on Carrick's long fly to Geier. Steinfield passed Van's slash to Beckley. Three runs.

Roberts Over the Vaal.

British Army Crosses the River and Enters Kruger's Territory in Force.

CAPE TOWN, Monday, May 21.—British troops have arrived at Vermeulen in the Transvaal, north of the Vaal River. The bridge across the Vaal was found to be intact.

Twenty-seven Free State and Transvaal locomotives were captured. Vermeulen is the first station north of the Vaal River on the railroad running to Pretoria, and is about thirty-five miles from Johannesburg. This station is eighty miles from Kroonstad, where Lord Roberts's last headquarters were supposed to be.

KITSON OPPOSES PIRATES.

Dodgers, After First Experience with Pittsburgh, Expect Hard Games in Smokehouse.

(Special to The Evening World.)

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 22.—The champions tackled the Pittsburghs with a vim again to-day. They attacked Col. Clarke's guards with as much confidence as any aggregation of baseballists ever displayed in taking the field against a pennant rival. It was a beautiful day but for the smoke that lurks in the atmosphere of Pittsburgh at all times.

Brooklyn's tourist fans looked for a hard fight from the Clarke bandits, but since they have seen them work and taken the first engagement they are very nervous enough to think they can take all four. There was no change in the Brooklyn line-up to-day excepting at second as usual, but he was not called upon to officiate in the game. Daly will probably start in at Chicago.

O'Brien played centre for the Pittsburghs in place of Beaumont, who is suffering with an attack of "Charley Horse."

Hanson had three pitchers to make a selection from. Kitson, Howell and Kennedy were ready for service. "Roaring Bill" arrived from Bellaire, where he stopped over to visit his home, this morning. Taking them by turns, as is Hanson's custom, Kitson was due before Kennedy, and he got the job.

Fred Clarke trotted out a string of pitchers for the warming up process that looked formidable. If they could all pitch at once it looked a cinch that the champions would win.

First Inning.

McBride lifted a liner over Davis for one bag. Geier's sacrifice bunt was handled by Grady. Carrick. Hickman grabbed Beckley's slash and with Davis can down and tagged McBride out. Beckley raced to second on the out. Mercer printed in Smith's fly near the foul line and got it. No runs.

Van let Breitenstein fool him plenty and was lured to strike out. Gleason poised to left for a base. Gleason started with Seibach's drive to short right, but McBride grabbed it in the air, running and doubled the Kid out before he could get back to first. No runs.

Second Inning.

Davis scored from short left field to pocket Corcoran's fly. Irwin whipped a
